SAINT JOSEPH'S COLLEGE CALUMET CENTER

Thursday, March 22, 1962

Father Martin Promoted To Full Professor

Promotion of the Rev. Henry J. Martin, C.P.P.S., Dean and Director of Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center, to the rank of full professorship has been announced by the Rev. Edward A. Maziarz, C.P.P.S., Academic Dean of Saint Joseph's College.

"It is my pleasure to inform you that you were promoted to a full professorship at a meeting of the President's Council. You are to be congratulated for your many years of service to the cause of Catholic education and specifically to Saint Joseph's College and the Calumet Center. I hope that God will give you many more years of faithful service," Father Maziarz said in informing Father Martin of the promotion.

The first director of Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center since its founding in 1951, Father Martin entered the educational field as an Instructor at Saint Joseph's Academy, Rensselaer, Ind., in 1940. He was ordained to the priesthood on September 8, 1940, and was appointed to the Academy staff on October 1, 1940.

Fr. Martin was appointed Director of the Calumet Center when it initiated classes at Bishop Noll High School in 1951. Under his leadership the Calumet Center grew into separate quarters that two years ago were further expanded when the present college building was acquired. At the same time the curriculum was expanded to make the Calumet Center the only four-year degree granting college in the Calumet Region.

Reappointed Dean and Director of Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center in 1959, the Fr. Martin has devoted his attention to the academic growth of the school and to the search for even larger campus facilities. Under his direction enrollment at the Center has increased "from a handful of eager scholars" to 646. The College can now boast four graduates and a senior class numbering 47.

A native of O'Fallon, Ill., Father Martin attended grade school at St. Boniface, Saints Mary & Joseph, and Saint Anthony in St. Louis, Mo. He attended St. Louis Prep Seminary at Webster Groves, Mo., from 1929 to 1932, and Saint Joseph's Academy at Rensselaer from 1932 to 1933. He received his college training at Saint Joseph's College and Saint Charles Seminary, Carthage, Ohio.

The Fr. Martin received his Bachelor of Arts Degree in philosophy and his Bachelor of Science Degree in biology from Saint Joseph's College in 1941. He obtained his Master of Science Degree in education at Indiana University in 1945. In 1950 Indiana University conferred the Doctor of Education degree upon Fr. Martin.

He was an Instructor at his College Alma Mater from 1940 to 1944 and then was named Principal of the Academy for four years. He was Assistant Professor of education from 1950 to 1955 and was elevated to Associate Professor while Director of the Calumet Center.

The merit promotion for Fr. Martin is indicative of the role he has played in the rapid growth of Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center and of the role he is to assume in the future expansion of educational offerings of the Society of Precious Blood which has headquarters in Carthage, Ohio.

Wedding plans for the couple are indefinite.

Students Visit Engraving Shop

Students of journalism 11A visited the Calumet Engraving Co. Hammond on Thursday March 15.

Dan Lowry, Kathy Mullaney, Mary Strycula, and Ron Sutch, staff members of SHAVINGS and students of the class greatly enjoyed the trip. John Harrigan, son of the owner, graciously took his time to explain the various phases of photography to the students.

Most fascinating was seeing how a metal cut of a picture is made from a negative.

After viewing all the processes, the class expressed its gratitude to Mr. & Mrs. John Harrigan, owners of Calumet Engraving Co., for their hospitality.

Calumet Engraving makes all cut of pictures and ads that appear in SHAVINGS.

Student Council Corner Seymour Doolittle III

By LIZ SZELESTY

Rev. Joseph Smolar, Dean of Students, has announced a postponement of Student Council elections for one week. The previous dates for elections, March 26-31, have been advanced to April 2-7. Instead, registration will take place from March 26-31. This election delay is due to preparations and preoccupations with the Fine Arts Play, "The Blithe Spirit", which will be performed on Saturday, March 24.

Class elections, scheduled for April 2-7, will be advanced to the following week, April 9-14. Each student should have a very special concern for the election of his class representatives.

Class officers have very significant functions. It is their duty to provide the members of the class they represent with social life as well as stimulating academic (and in our case) spiritual development.

Because class officers are elected only by their fellow classmates, there is a much more intimate relationship between the officers and those they represent. It is usually true that members of the same class tend to associate; therefore the students feel more "free" to talk with their class officers concerning academic or social problems. In this capacity is the class officer most valuable.

The president represents his class in the Student Council. Thus, the class president holds a dual position: a) as the head of his class, and b) as a Student Council member. In respect of his position in the Student Council, the class president automatically acquires membership in the scholastic committee. Under the leadership of the vice-president of the Council, this committee is to "meet with the Dean of Students once each semester to discuss student viewpoints on matters of curriculum and instruction" (Art. X, Sect. 2).

As the representative of his class, one of the duties of the president is to secure a date for any class-planned activity (all social affairs must be registered through the Council and recorded on its official calendar to avoid complications). He must also bring forth any problems or suggestions proposed by his classmates and which he cannot deal with at his level. It is his obligation to support these proposals (that is, if they are worth support—another responsibility). At every Student Council meeting, the class president must be on guard to protect and maintain the interests of his class.

One of the most difficult and disturbing aspects of a class officer's position is the example he must provide for his fellow students. Not only is he expected to be a noteworthy student academically, but socially and ethically as well. An officer should obey the campus regulations (e.g. regarding smoking, parking, various disturbances in the lounges and halls, etc.) and should enforce them among his own class members.

The vice president of each class in virtue of his position also assumes membership in the Welfare Committee of the Council. This committee is responsible for discovering any serious illness or death in the student body. In consequence, consolation is offered by means of flowers or a card provided through the medium of the officers of the class concerned.

The over-all range of a class officer's obligations transcend the local area of his class. He must work cooperatively with other class officers, Council members, club officials, the faculty and administration, in order to maintain the Student Union as a unified yet interdependent whole.

During the past year, class officers have assisted at the orientation day program, the President's Reception, and the prom. The sophomore and junior classes donated to charitable organizations. This is not the only manner of cooperation, however. Officers must attend as many social affairs as possible and join and support the clubs of their interest. For the most part, 1961-62's officers have fulfilled this obligation commendably.

Now that a general conception of the functions of class officers have been presented, it is up to each individual student to elect a worthy officer. Each candidate must present a petition to the Dean of Students containing 25 signatures (including two professors) by April 6. All competitors must have had a 2.00 index for the preceding semester.

Lab technician 15 to 40 hours per week. Science background, chemistry required. Munster.

Anyone interested in the following positions should contact Mr. Fatore room 202.

It seems the big question around school these days is just who am I. Well, the answer is obvious I'm Seymour Doolittle III.

It appears that I have made a few enemies since last week's Seymour went to press. That's a shame, if these people could ever meet me they would be surprised to find that I am really a pretty likeable person.

Concerning last week's comment on who is the best looking girl and guy at the Center, I have to mention the fact that there were a couple of people left off the list, the reason being that it seems rather conceited to put my own name in my own column.

A point of information directed to Bruce "pie-face" Companik is that the cost of pie has gone up at George's Diner. You know, Bruce, it would have been cheaper to give it up for Lent.

I understand that some people must satisfy their inner needs, but just exactly what does putting a straw through a potato satisfy?

Everyone has their own favorite western hero and Dale Wagner likes to express his preference in the form of his dress. Just who is your favorite Dale, Roy Rogers, Gene Autry or DALE EVANS?

I've noticed during the year some of our students have picked up nicknames, for example, "Harry Handy Man" Matusiak, Maureen "Moe" Clancy, Jim "Willy Hoppe" Hiduke, Rich "The Chain" Blajszczak, "Wild Bill" O'Malley, Art "Mr. Slang" Wittmann, Tom "Don Juan" Emro, Dan "Kathy's Clown" Lowry, Seymour "The Snoo" Doolittle and last but not least "The Wanderer" and "Miss Personality".

Once again we find ourselves in the middle of class elections. Here is a chance for all those "talkers" to really do something constructive. If we all give these elections some serious consideration we can be assured that the new officers will be as capable as the present ones.

If some students still feel they have a dislike for me after this week's "sizzling" column, write your list of complaints and send them to me.

On that note I'll close with this comment; after I have dealt with all 646 students in my weekly column, I intend to start over; if I'm able.

Yours,
Seymour

Mr. Brinley Speaks To N. C. C. W.

Recently Mr. Donald Brinley, Assistant Professor of philosophy, talked at the Crown Point Deanery of the National Council of Catholic Women (N.C.C.W.). His topic was the need for more adult religious education.

He did a commentary on the definition of a sacrament as "an outward sign instituted by Christ to give grace." He demonstrated how frequently this definition is misunderstood.

Stating that the adult education program of the Gary diocese, in which several Saint Joseph's instructors participate, is at least a partial remedy, Mr. Brinley said, "If the liturgy is the primary and indispensable source of true Christian spirit, then we must come to understand the Mass and sacraments better or our lives as adult Christians in the secular world will be sterile."

JOE MODJESKI seems to have just thrown his hip out of place as he twists to the music at the Mardi-Gras. Joe was seen limping after the dance, but he denies twisting. Pictures don't lie, do they?

Commerce Club Holds Meeting

By WALLY KEILMAN

On March 14, the Commerce Club held its monthly meeting in room 205.

The first item under discussion was the very enjoyable Mardi Gras Dance. Even though there was a $12.90 deficit to each of the clubs that sponsored the dance, it was still considered a success.

Ray Tobias read a financial statement. He stated that there is $85.00 in the club's treasury. He also urged that those who wish to accompany the club on its annual field trip to the Schlitz Brewery must pay their dues prior to the tour.

Jerry Stano, president, acknowledged that it may not be economically feasible to charter a bus for the trip to Milwaukee's brewery. All estimates thus far have been beyond the budget of the Club and its members.

If it will be impossible to charter a bus, responsible drivers will be asked to drive their cars and take four or five members each. Those who will be driven will be asked to contribute for gas. It will cost $.90 to $1.00 per person.

The date of the field trip has been changed from April 4 to April 3.

It was also announced that a committee has been chosen to choose books for the library which will be donated at the end of the semester. The committee consists of three members headed by Julian Perez with Bob Kearney and Jim Kristoff.

The meeting was concluded with a most interesting film, "The Shop Steward."

The film opened with the election of a new shop steward. By coincidence, a new foreman started in this section on the same day. The first contact between the two was over a broken safety guard.

A big grievance occurred when the foreman fires one of the older men because his production. The shop steward made a careful investigation and found that supplies were always coming in late to the man who was fired. So the man was therefore reinstated. The film indicated that relations between the shop steward and the foreman may be better from now on because each has learned from the other something of how they can best function.

Student Spotlight

Secretary of the senior class, Miss Ruth Szot is majoring in elementary education. She will graduate after completing her degree work during the summer sessions. A graduate of Bishop Noll, Miss Szot completed two years of college work at Indiana University Calumet Center and then transferred to Saint Joe's Calumet Center.

She is now completing her student teaching at Harrison school in East Chicago, where she enjoys teaching her second and third grade classes. Stating that it is refreshing to be with these children because they are so natural, Ruth says, "They are the best critics and actors; they will tell you anything. If you want the truth, ask a child."

Though not sure where, she plans to teach in the fall. Having been on the honor roll several times, she hopes to further her education and especially to learn more about working with the blind and reading braille. She became interested in this type of work when she found that one of her pupils at Harrison is blind.

Last year Ruth was president of the Future Teachers Club and a member of the Woman's Chorus. She now belongs to Phi Tau Alpha and the Fine Arts Club.

In her spare time, she enjoys reading. Being busy with schoolwork and student teaching, she has had little chance to ice skate this winter. Water skiing and playing tennis are her favorite summer sports, and one of her newer interests is trapshooting.

Catholic Family Topic of Speech

Mr. John Swanke, Instructor philosophy, talked recently on the importance of the Catholic family at the Holy Name Family Communion Breakfast at Saint Andrew parish in Calumet City. After the 7:30 a.m. Mass, approximately 100 people heard him say that the proper raising of a family is no easy job.

He said that the family has been established not only for the generation of children, but also for the education. By education he meant more than just a formal education.

Mr. Swanke stated, "in a complicated age such as this is, children also need training from the home in etiquette and the social and cultural facets of life. Though the children may belong to groups such as Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, the main part of their training should come from the home."

Strikes & Spares

The bowling Club wishes to announce that a new league has been formed and will continue as long as the members wish. Each member is required to sign his name on a list that he will guarantee his presence each Sunday or will pay his $1.50 even though he was absent. This will naturally cut down the absenteeism.

For the last week of individual competition the bowlers seemed to be holding back for the team competition next week. Bruno Marszowski led all bowlers with a high game of 185 and high series of 502.

Wally Olesk was second in both departments. He rolled two 179 games and had a 501 series.

But the "Booby Prize" of the semester must go to Wally Keilman. His third and final game was perfect. He went through ten frames without a mark, that is a strike or a spare. His total of 86 pins was the lowest total for a game this semester.

From now on this "Booby Prize" will be awarded each week.

Pope John Rules Latin For Masses

Pope John XXIII has taken the pulse of Latin and announced there is still a lot of life in the language that spans nations and centuries.

Latin, says the Supreme Ruler of the Roman Catholic Church, is concise, flexible, harmonious, full of majesty, and dignity. He finds it important in the Church's nature and mission.

The Pontiff's words, contained in his recent apostolic constitution entitled "Veterum Sapientia"—Wisdom of the Ages—climax a debate over substitution of the language of each land for at least a part of the Latin ritual of the Mass.

"Introibo ad Altare Dei," are the Latin words that have begun the Roman Catholic Mass for centuries. Some American prelates, priests, and laymen had suggested that those words should be voiced: "I will go in unto the Altar of God."

Now Pope John has, in effect, ended the debate and directed that the study of Latin be intensified.

The Pontiff's words were aimed at seminaries training students to be priests. But the document was a caution for the entire Church. It said no one, for the mania of newness, should write against the use of Latin in rites.

Latin came into official use in the Roman Catholic Church only about the third century. Christ preached in Aramaic. This Semitic language was used until 70 A.D.

PRAY FOR THE SUCCESS OF THE ECUMENICAL COUNCIL

St. Joe's Student Teacher

Our student teacher this week is Donald Angel, who is doing his student teaching at Thornton Fractional South High School, Lansing, Illinois, where he teaches social studies.

Angel is a graduate of Mount Carmel High School in Chicago. After his graduation he attended Loras College, Dubuque, Iowa, where he received a B.A. in history. From 1957 to 1959 he served in the Marine Corps. He then spent one year in law school at DePaul University. This past year he enrolled at St. Joseph's to fulfill his requirements for secondary teaching.

His student teaching is done under the supervision of Mrs. Cora Belle Beare, whom he describes as a very conscientious teacher with a fine understanding of the high school student. The prospective teacher stated, "During my student teaching I have become exposed to team teaching, a new experience which has already proved to be very valuable."

Angel's future plans are to secure a position as a high school teacher in the department of social studies. Where he will teach is undecided.

He commented that the good teacher must be high-principled. He added, "It is my hope that throughout my life I will be able to act on Catholic principles. By doing so my aims as a teacher will be fulfilled. I hope that I will be able to develop the physical, aesthetic, intellectual, moral and spiritual powers of youth, and in so doing, help them attain the end for which they were created."

Meet the Faculty

"Be sincere when you work with children. Try to make the teaching profession more than looking for salary, a short day, and a summer vacation," stressed Mr. Gale Whitmer, Lecturer in education, his students at Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center.

Because of his desire to work with people, Mr. Whitmer majored in sociology and physical education at Illinois Wesleyan University, Bloomington, Ill., where he received B.S. in 1956. His M.S. in education was obtained in 1960 from Indiana University, Bloomington, Ind.

Also the principal of Hoover Elementary School, Calumet City, Ill., the Lecturer has had a personal compensation in the field of education from practical experience. "You like children," he remarked, "you'll enjoy the educational profession."

A member of the Illinois Education Association, the Illinois Elementary School Principals Association, and the Northern Illinois Round Table of Principals, Mr. Whitmer is also executive secretary of the local Kiwanis Club, on the board of directors of the Calumet City School for the Retarded and the Thornton Fractional Scholarship Foundation, a first aid instructor for the American Red Cross, and an officer of the American Legion Post 33 Child Welfare Board.

Currently active in tennis and bowling, Mr. Whitmer boasts of a tennis letter which he won in college.

"Always remember," he stated, "that a school does not exist for the parents, school board members, administration, nor the staff; it exists for the students," he continued, "primarily for the students."
